Heather Gonzales

Heather Gonzales' journey is one of resilience, creativity, and unwavering dedication to her students. Currently serving as a visual arts instructor at Southeast Bulloch Middle School, Gonzales brings 14 years of experience to the classroom, including 12 within Bulloch County Schools. Her commitment to nurturing young minds through artistic expression recently earned her the prestigious honor of Bulloch County Schools Teacher of the Year.

Her approach to teaching is deeply influenced by her personal experience with dyslexia. As a student who struggled in traditional academic settings, Gonzales found refuge and confidence through art. This early realization shaped her philosophy: that creativity can be a powerful tool for building self-worth and redefining success for students who face academic or personal challenges.

Gonzales began her educational path at Ogeechee Technical College, where she earned an associate degree in Early Childhood Care & Education. She continued her studies at the University of Alaska – Fairbanks as a ceramics major, later transferring to Georgia Southern University in 2004 to complete her bachelor's degree in Art Education.

She launched her teaching career in 2008 at Mill Creek Elementary School, where she taught visual arts to kindergarten through fifth-grade students. In 2015, she transitioned to Langston Chapel Elementary, and in 2018, she joined the faculty at Southeast Bulloch Middle School, where she continues to inspire students today.

In both her personal and professional life, Heather Gonzales is a model of strength and perseverance. As a cancer survivor, she brings a unique perspective on overcoming adversity—one that resonates deeply with the students she teaches. Beyond brushstrokes and clay, she equips her students with tools for self-expression, resilience, and confidence.
